

HOLIDAY TRADE ENDS

Rush at Close of the Season
Sets a New Record.

ANNUAL INVENTORIES START

High Money Rates Affect Some Lines of Wholesale Trade, but in General
Conditions Are Satisfactory—Dun's
Review Shows Expectations Realized
in Most Lines of Activity.

New York, Dec. 21.—Bradstreet's review of the week's trade-to-morrow will say:

"Holiday buying, easily the pre-eminent trade feature, increases as the season draws to a close, and early predictions of a record turnover are being fully realized. Stocks have been well disposed of that jobbers have booked a large volume of reorders. Otherwise, however, general retail trade in seasonable goods has been subjected to the varieties of weather, being prevalent, but backward in the East, parts of the South, and in the Northwest, where the weather has been either too mild or too rainy for the full development.

"In the larger, more extensive lines, wholesale and jobbing business is comparatively quiet in consonance with the season, drummers being in for the holidays, while inventory is under way. Nevertheless, some lines, cottons and dry goods, for instance, have booked good orders for spring delivery, and mills in these lines are well sold ahead.

Advance Business Big.
"Most branches of trade anticipate a heavy spring business. Industrial lines are still very active. Iron and steel are active and well sold at high prices do not deter consumers from buying, and are far ahead of the third quarter of 1907. The trade in general will enter the new year with the greatest momentum ever attained. Car shortages still continue to retard shipments and deliveries, grain and coal being particularly affected, especially in the Northwest and on the Pacific Coast.

"High rates for money still prevail, thus causing severe fluctuations in the stock market at New York, and affecting some lines of wholesale trade. Bank clearings have been about the third quarter of 1907. The trade in general will enter the new year with the greatest momentum ever attained. Car shortages still continue to retard shipments and deliveries, grain and coal being particularly affected, especially in the Northwest and on the Pacific Coast.

Dun's Report of Week.

"In its review, Dun's-to-morrow will say: "Weather conditions accelerated distribution of seasonable merchandise at retail, but increased traffic difficulties and freight blockades which threaten serious results at some Western points. Holiday trade has caused sanguine expectations, yet this large volume has not interfered with the brisk demand for staple articles, which depleted stocks to such an extent that wholesale trade experiences unusual activity for the season.

"Numerous advances in wages are reported, as a rule, becoming effective January 1, and the only noteworthy decrease in comparison with activities a year ago appears in building permits. More conservatism in this respect is not surprising, in view of the high cost of materials, the scarcity of labor, and abnormal rates for money.

"Most industrial work is maintained at the maximum, mills and factories having so many contracts for next year's delivery that they are unable to divert little attention. Railway earnings thus far reported for December surpass last year's by 9.6 per cent. For the whole country the month of November provides a new record of imports at $112,639,820, and exports of $182,509,398 were only exceeded in the previous month and December of last year.

Iron Prices Steady.

"Scarcely any change is recorded in prices of iron, the market having developed a little of the quiet, although furnaces constantly receive new orders, and in some sections the week has brought out contracts for delivery in the closing months of 1907.

"Steadiness in quotations and the avoidance of any inflation are now the factors that will contribute most largely to continued activity, and conservative authorities scrutinize quotations closely, remembering the events of only a few years ago, when reckless speculation forced prices violently upward, and subsequent cancellations restricted activity, forcing inventories to be shipped for the year, and the estimates that all records were far surpassed and still larger figures are promised for 1907.

"Commerce shows this week in the United States are 254, against 261 last week, 232 the preceding week and 226 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 26, against 27 last week, 33 the preceding week and 23 last year. Of the preceding week in the United States 95 were in the East, 69 in the South, 67 in the West, and 23 in the Pacific States, and 99 reported liabilities of $5,000 or more. Liabilities of commercial failures, as reported to the Federal Reserve bank, compared with $5,777,764 a year ago.

PORTRAYED AS GILLETTE.

Zintsmaster Claims Libel Because His Picture Was Published.

Herkimer, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Daniel Zintsmaster, formerly of this village, who now lives near Geneva, will institute libel suits against several newspapers, including two in New York, which, it is said, published his picture during the Gillette trial with the words, "Chester Gillette, the murderer of Grace Brown," under it. Mr. Zintsmaster was formerly employed by his uncle, P. Zintsmaster, of this village, in his photograph gallery. During the trial the demand for photographs of Gillette was lively, and it was known that the undersheriff had the prisoner's picture taken for purposes of identification by Mr. Zintsmaster. Several newspaper men called repeatedly at his gallery in order to obtain one picture if possible. Mr. Zintsmaster refused to part with any of the pictures until permission was given by Gillette. In the meanwhile, it is said, one of the correspondents, noticing the picture of Daniel Zintsmaster, acquired possession of it in some way, and sent it into his paper as a photograph of Gillette, and it was published and widely copied by other papers.
